Mass Communications Mission Statement

The mission of Shaw University’s Department of Mass Communications is to educate students to think and act as responsible professionals and ethical citizens in a global community. We desire to work personally with students to prepare them for career opportunities and leadership in our technical society- with an emphasis in new media and develop effective communicators on paper, on air, and online.

Mass Communications Program Goals

1. Provide students with appropriate training for careers in mass communications.

2. Provide an intellectual climate for students to evaluate, interpret, and analyze issues related to mass media as those issues relate to leadership and professional responsibility.

Course Description:
This course is designed to refine writing skills of students who have taken Writing and Reporting I. Students will be asked to participate in exercises that will culminate in advanced journalism media products. This course will emphasize multi-media journalism.

2. Shadow Day 15%: Students will are expected to spend the equivalent of one class period with a mass media professional of their choosing in the area to shadow. The goal of this project is to learn how that professional intersects with the news. Students will do a presentation based on their experiences.

3. Tests 20% each

A basic measure of student knowledge retention comes in the form of examinations. These are a necessary tool not only for the instructor but also the student to identify areas of strength and improvements. This course will have at least three exams: a midterm, a final and third exam. All exams will be comprehensive meaning content discussed in class, assigned readings, supplemental readings, in class and outside class screening. Exams are essay based and could have multiple solutions. Your objective during the exam is to apply your knowledge base to any given scenario within the context of this course. Make up exams will not be offered.

4. Assignments 5%

These are in class or out of class exercises to help strengthen story writing skills.

5. Portfolio 10%

The portfolio is a professional presentation of your work using some multimedia element.

Class Attendance: The attendance policy printed in the Shaw University Undergraduate Catalogue will be enforced. When a student is unable to attend class, it is the student's responsibility to call the professor in advance, whenever possible. It is the student's responsibility to obtain the notes, handouts, or other material for the missed class. Students remain responsible for all assignments due during the missed class. An absence does not excuse the student from any work or due dates.

Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class and students not present at that time will be marked absent. Students who come in late are required to inform the instructor immediately following that class period in order to be counted late rather than absent.

Class attendance is mandated for all Shaw University students. Students are responsible for attending class on time and adhering to the University’s Class Attendance Policy. The Attendance Policy is printed in the Shaw University Undergraduate Catalogue and shall be enforced. Each student is allowed as many unexcused absences per semester as the class meets per week.

Students who exceed the number of unexcused absences run the risk of failing the course. Though a 4th absence is not a guarantee of a failing grade, one simply cannot pass a course with excessive absences. If a student arrives at 5 unexcused absences, that student will be reported to the department chair with a recommendation that the student receive a grade of WF (withdrawal failure) for the course. If you foresee your attendance in this course to be a problem it is strongly recommended that you withdraw immediately.

Course Plagiarizing/Cheating:
Plagiarism (using another’s work as your own, whether you put it in your own words or keep it in the original words) and cheating are serious offenses and will be treated as such. A student who plagiarizes or cheats – whether giving or receiving information – will receive a grade of zero on that particular exam or paper, and WILL receive a grade of F for the course.

If you have questions about the concept of plagiarism talk with your instructor.

COURSE POLICIES
Rules of order:

* As this class will deal a lot with how your classmates see the world, keep in mind their world view may be radically different from yours. Please feel free to raise alternate arguments, however, please do not launch any personal attacks because others hold views different from yours. Let’s put good listening skills to work in this class called communication!

* All assignments will be issued through Blackboard. You need to have a Shaw Bears email account as that will be the official email that I will use to contact you. Please monitor this site daily and watch for important updates and announcements.

* In this class, we will honor all rules and regulations set out by Shaw University concerning academic dishonesty. You are expected to do all of your own work. No work done for another class may be turned in for this class. Please consult the university’s policy on plagiarism. We will talk about this in class. Academic misconduct is subject to referral to the Office of Student Affairs. The grade penalty for plagiarism will be an F (No credit) on the assignment.

* Attendance is vital. Please do not make any appointments during class time. Even if absences are excused, missed work is not.

* No late work will be accepted in this class. You are always welcomed to turn in projects early.
*All assignments must be typed and professionally presented. Substandard work even, that which is completed on time will not be accepted. Get an early start on all assignments.

*If you are a student needing special assistance because of disability recognized by Shaw U. Please see me.

The syllabus and all other matters of course procedure are subject to change based on the progression of the class and other unforeseen circumstances. In the even of any changes, you will be given sufficient notice. It is your responsibility to be aware of these changes.

Please if there are questions about the class procedure or assignments, contact me right away and we can discuss your concerns!!

CELL PHONES, PAGERS, TWO-WAYS, I Pods and other portable electronic devices are strictly prohibited during class. Students must deactivated these devices prior to class starting unless there is an eminent life changing event that can be documented by a medical personnel or the university. 1st offense you will receive an oral warning and your phone will be collected and answered in class. 2nd offense will result in written warning and may result in phone being collected and turned over to the Vice President of Student Affairs. A 3rd offense will result in the student dropped for the course receiving a final grade of an F. Students are permitted to use laptop computers for the purposes of taking notes, audio visual presentation devices, and internet search tools during academic class instruction.

Unauthorized use of internet will not be tolerated. Unauthorized use is defined as web surfing during class time, use of internet during closed book exams, installing software applications without the written approval of ITS. Individuals proven responsible for such infractions are subject to punitive action by the instructor and the university.

Student Classroom Decorum Expectations

To enhance the learning atmosphere of the classroom, students are expected to dress and behave in a fashion conducive to learning in the classroom. More specifically, students will refrain from disruptive classroom behavior (i.e., talking to classmates, disrespectful responses to teacher instructions; swearing; wearing clothes that impede academic learning such as but not limited to, wearing body-revealing clothing and excessively baggy pants; hats/caps, and/or headdress). Students will turn off telephones prior to entering the classroom. Students who exhibit the behaviors described above, or similar behaviors will be immediately dismissed from class at the third documented offense. The student will be readmitted to class only following a decision by the department chair. The student may appeal the decision of the department chair to the Dean of the College offering the course, and, subsequently, to the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and then to the President of Shaw University. The decision of the President will be final. Failure to follow the procedures herein outlined will result in termination of the appeal, and revert to the decision of the department chair.

Each behavior construed by the teacher/professor as non-contributive to learning will be recorded, properly documented, and appropriately reported to the student and to the chair of the academic department offering the course. The report will be in written form with a copy provided to both the student and the department chair. The faculty member should retain a copy for his/her own records.

Additional student behavior codes may be found in Student Affairs.
